

Scripture on Scripture

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR BIBLE

Biblical Authority:

Everything we do, say, think, and teach is informed by and subject to the _____.

Five things to know about your Bible:

Your Bible is _____. Your Bible is _____.
Your Bible is _____. Your Bible is _____.
Your Bible is _____.

The Bible is Sufficient

The Bible doesn't say _____ about everything, but it says _____ things about the most important things God wants us to know.

Your Bible is able to instruct you for _____ through faith in Christ Jesus.

Your Bible is able to equip you for all the _____ God has planned for you to do.

- We focus our search for God's words to us on the Bible alone (_____, the Scripture alone.)
- While God can guide us with more subjective impressions of his will, these are _____ to Scripture and should be _____ by Scripture.
- God could _____ to Scripture, but that does not seem likely.
- We should consider _____ of equal value to Scripture.

Six Practical Implications of the Doctrine of Sufficiency

1. We don't have to afraid we are _____ on something God wants us to know.
2. God does _____ to believe anything about himself or salvation, or do anything not found in Scripture.
3. _____ that is not forbidden by Scripture, either explicitly or by implication.
4. We should _____ others believe anything about God or salvation, or do anything, not found in Scripture.
5. We can be _____ with what God has told us in Scripture, and _____ what Scripture emphasizes.
6. Stress reading the Bible over reading other _____.
